

COVID-19 Safety Awareness Training for Farmers

Guaranteed food security depends on healthy and safe farmers

LINKS Introduction

The objective of this module is to raise safety awareness on how to stay protected and carry on farming business in the COVID-19 pandemic period

Please note that our training sessions will adhere strictly to all COVID-19 safety rules as outlined by National Centre for Disease Control, NCDC

LINKS About COVID-19

There is currently an outbreak of coronavirus (COVID-19) disease. This disease is dangerous and can affect our health when contracted, which by extension can affect your abilities to participate in farming activities

But there is good news, the disease can be avoided!

To avoid the disease, we encourage you to pay special attention to the COVID-19 safety measures information we will be providing during this training, both at home and in the farm

Symptoms of COVID-19

Fever, coughing, sneezing, runny nose, tiredness, shortness of breath

Safety Tips for Farmers

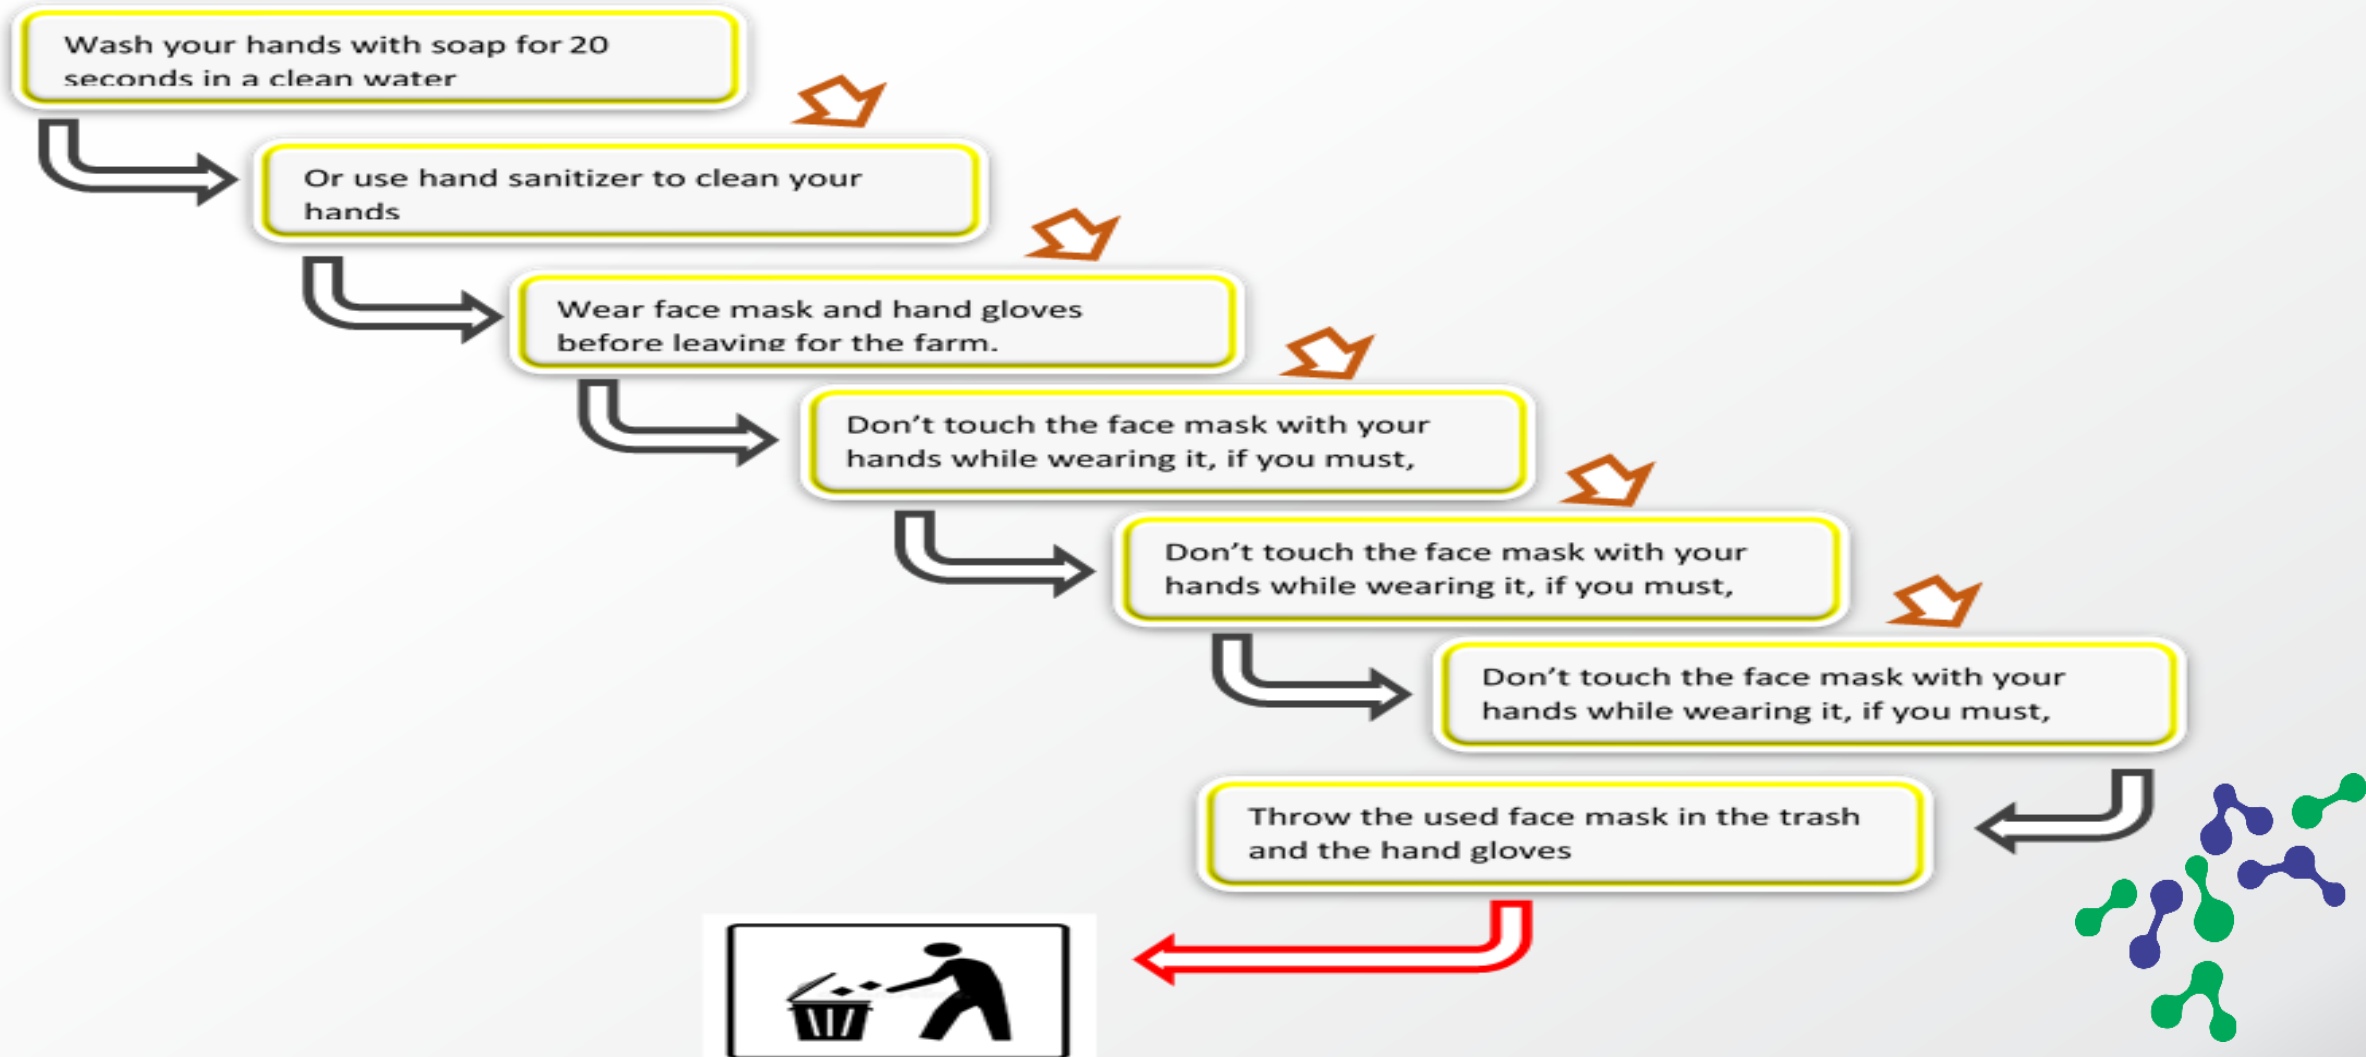

There is no immunity to COVID-19 neither is there a treatment yet for it

To protect yourselves from contracting COVID -19, whether you are a smallholder farmer with only family members helping in the farm, or large commercial farmer with employees, please follow the COVID -19 safety procedures as provided by NCDC...

COVID-19 Safety Procedures

Important Kits Required for Protection Against COVID-19

Other Safety Procedures

- Limit or restrict visitors to the farm or business operation
- Communicate clearly with your family or workers that they have the responsibility to notify you when they are feeling unwell
- Ensure employees are informed of the symptoms and risk of COVID-19
- Communicate clearly with your workers that they have the responsibility to notify you

Keep COVID-19 Outside the Home

- Do not enter the house with your shoes when you return from the farm
- Take your bath immediately
- Keep farming clothes separate from other clothes and wash as soon as possible
- Expose items that cannot be washed under the sun

Action to Take if you Notice any of the Symptoms
